

SENATOR GORE EXPLAINS PANIC

Says President Was Held Up by the Financial Pirates and Had to Deliver.

LA FOLLETTE WON'T ATTACK

Refuses to Bring Partisan Politics Into Discussion of Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—Directing his remarks to the charge formerly made that the recent financial stringency was started by great bankers and financiers, Senator La Follette today declared that since he spoke on Tuesday he had secured additional information proving that his charge was correct. He read a letter signed by H. R. Vermilye, auditor of the Washington Life Insurance Company, calling upon an agent to send premiums collected weekly to New York, and he said such letters were sent to agents of that company all over the country.

"Other New York insurance companies," said Mr. La Follette, "controlled by identical allied interests, at the same time gave similar instructions to their State managers throughout the country."

Senator Gore, the blind representative of Oklahoma, interrupted to ask whether, in view of the charges made by the Senator from Wisconsin, the President was justified in congratulating the men who brought on the panic.

"Does the Senator think," he said, "that President Roosevelt and Secretary Cortelyou were not star actors in that performance, or at least that they congratulated the chief actors when it was over?"

Defends President.

He quoted from a letter sent by President Roosevelt to Mr. Cortelyou, Mr. La Follette deprecated the idea of bringing partisan politics into the discussion, and said he did not propose to be drawn into criticism of the President, who had done the best he could to relieve the situation and had not thought it wise at that critical moment to attempt the punishment of the financiers who had started the conflagration, which the President sought to put out.

"Whatever the agencies were back of that panic," said Mr. La Follette, "whatever the responsibility on him as the President and his Secretary of the Treasury were confronted with a condition."

"The panic was on," declared the Senator. "The country was put in peril and the responsibility on him as the head of the government and to his Secretary as the head of the Treasury Department. Where else could the money have been sent to stop the panic, when the money was behind it?"

Senator Bailey said he agreed with the Oklahoma Senator that the money should have been sent to the banks throughout the country whose money was in New York, and was kept from them, and he did not think such a performance should have been ended by a letter of congratulation from the President.

Dagger at His Throat.

Mr. Gore said he justified the President in standing and delivering to the people's money when their dagger was at his throat. But I cannot," he said, "excuse him for congratulating the pirates as public-spirited benefactors. I excuse the President for helping the incendiaries who kindled the fire, but I can hardly go so far as to approve his proclamation of them as the deliverers of the country."

Mr. Gore stated that he heartily agreed with the Senator from Wisconsin, "that Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Morgan brought this country a panic which had ripened to a point of falseing, but he did not think they should be hailed as benefactors afterward."

Referring to the Aldrich bill as originally reported, Mr. La Follette declared that the railroad bonds had been "whisked" out of the measure. "We are not through with that proposition," he added. "It will appear again and again until finally it is overwhelmingly beaten or until it is worked in and grafted upon the currency system of this country."

He then discussed at some length his resolution for the valuation of railway property, which he said had been sent to the Committee on Interstate Commerce, but was not acted upon.

"This is not the first time in the history of legislation," he continued, "that the chairman of the Committee on Finance has brought in propositions by legislative decree to work railroad bonds into the Treasury De-

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the Proof Is Right Here.

For years evidence that inflammatory rheumatism is curable by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has been published. That hundreds of people have tried the treatment with good results is shown by the increasing number of cures reported.

Every sufferer from this most painful of diseases who does not try this treatment is neglecting the most hopeful means of recovery as is shown by the statement of Mr. E. C. Odell, of Morrison, Ill.

"I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism for eighteen months before I found a cure," he says. "I had always been more or less troubled with my kidneys and stomach. The rheumatic attack came on a few years ago when I was living in New York State. All of my muscles were inflamed and I was swollen from head to foot. I could not walk any distance at all without resting. The pains were dull and aching and once in a while were sharp and shooting. The rheumatism began to affect my heart, causing fainting spells."

"I was under a doctor's treatment for about a year, but didn't derive any help from it and in fact I grew worse. I saw an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a newspaper and began to use them at once. The relief was almost immediate and I took the pills until cured. I have never had the rheumatism in any form since. My wife has been very much benefited by using the pills as a tonic and recommends them as highly as I do."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were originally a prescription used in the doctor's private practice and their benefit to mankind has been increased many thousand fold by their being placed on general sale with the doctor's own directions for use. They are entirely safe and contain no opiates or other habit-forming drugs. They build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and have cured rheumatism in almost every form, anæmia, troubles of women and growing girls, and many forms of weakness.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

PAY THE CHURCH CLAIMS.

Senator Martin Makes Strong Argument for This Provision of Bill.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—Senator Martin spoke at some length in the Senate today in behalf of the omnibus claims bill, which has passed the House, and which has been amended in many important particulars in the Senate Committee on Claims. The Senate committee put on many amendments, and the bill was reported. Later the bill was recommitted and a large portion of the Senate items were stricken out, and the bill thus shorn was reported to the Senate once more.

The committee took the ground that the churches, damages to which formed the basis of nearly all the new claims added to the bill in the Senate, were damaged through the taking of the lumber for use in building bridges or for other military purposes, and that the government should not repay them for the lumber thus taken.

Senator Martin combated this position, replying chiefly upon the committee report prepared by the late Senator Hoar some years ago on the claim of William and Mary College. The Massachusetts statesman wrote a very illuminating report on the subject, in which he took broad, magnanimous ground, recommending the payment of the claim. The payment of the claim was authorized and the college actually received the money.

Senator Martin made a lawyer's argument on the question, and finally Senator Fulton, chairman of the committee, agreed to allow each claim to be considered on its merits as an amendment as the consideration of the bill progresses in the Senate.

It is believed this agreement will result in all or practically all of the church claims being embraced in the bill when it passes the Senate.

The Court of Claims has passed on each one of these claims, yet the majority of the Claims Committee proposed to have them sent back to the court, with instructions to find the actual value of the material taken, this finding to form the basis of the appropriation for relief in each case. Senator Martin does not often address the Senate, but he jumped into the ring with great vigor today, and, aided by Senators Clay, Teller, Bailey and others, won a signal victory. Many of the claims are for damages done to Virginia churches by Federal troops.

WORKING FOR CONVENTION.

Norfolk Democrats Anxious That State Meeting Be Held There.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., March 19.—An active canvass was instituted today among the merchants and business men of Norfolk to secure funds for the entertainment of the Democratic State convention, in the event it is secured for Norfolk at the approaching meeting of the State Central Committee at Richmond. It is expected that a handsome sum will be raised in a little while.

The local politicians are confident that Norfolk and Annapolis as a convention city will be generally recognized. The one important item—ample hotel accommodations at reasonable prices—is assured should the meeting be held here. Twice the number that will be in attendance at the convention can be accommodated without necessitating the crowding of any one. At a nominal cost Armory Hall can be arranged to seat 4,000 people or more. The attractions of the seaside resorts, which can be visited after the convention, including fishing and stambout trips, it is believed, will give the city an advantage in fighting for the convention.

GIVE THE NEGROES ONE.

Have Large Majority in Meeting and Got One Delegate.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

SUFFOLK, Va., March 19.—Everything moved like the way were good and greasy at the Republican county mass meeting which met at noon today in the county courthouse.

The meeting was convened on the minute, and at the expiration of twelve minutes everything had been done, and that with a show of a contested motion or nomination.

Two white delegates and one negro delegate were chosen to both the District Convention in Norfolk March 24th and the State Convention in Lynchburg April 8th. They are A. M. Matties and Rufus E. Potter and Jordan Thompson.

County Chairman E. M. C. Quimby called the meeting to order, and Mr. Matties was temporary, as well as permanent, chairman.

Negroes were in a large majority at the meeting. A few ultra Lily Whites were present as spectators only. No resolutions were passed, and there was no allusion to the national administration or a presidential preference.

WOULD SHUT MANY OUT.

Great Number Would Be Affected by New Poll Tax Regulation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., March 19.—Wide-spread discussion of the poll tax decision of the Supreme Court, and its probable effect throughout the State is being generally discussed in Norfolk at present.

While it is admitted that the strict interpretation of the law, as laid down by the Supreme Court, will be beneficial in preventing the indiscriminate payment of the poll taxes of voters by politicians, it is charged that it will work a greater hardship on many of the best citizens of the State, especially if suddenly enforced, as thousands of business men and others, who sent in checks for taxes, or had them paid by clerks and others, will be barred from voting.

It is declared that the literal enforcement of the law in Norfolk, if it is possible for the treasurer to determine who failed to pay taxes in person, will cut between 500 and 1,000 good citizens in this city.

It is believed to be the most attractive offer ever made to the State for a permanent military camp.

HEAD OF STOREY SWINDLE IS GIVEN FOUR YEARS

Frank Marrin, Convicted in Philadelphia, Also to Pay Big Fine.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 19.—Frank C. Marrin, alias "Judge" Franklin Stone, head of the Storey Cotton Swindle, was sentenced by United States Judge Holland yesterday to four years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, and ordered to pay a fine of $5,000 and the costs of prosecution. The cost of his defense will reach several thousand dollars.

When sentence was passed, Attorney Robinson announced his intention of appealing to the United States Court of Appeals, and Marrin furnished $10,000 bail.

Stanley Francis, Marrin's right-hand man in the hold-up game, now serving a five-years sentence in the penitentiary for his part in the conspiracy to defraud a postal office, whose name was brought into the affair as the result of the inaction of his department in the matter, was removed when the swindle was laid bare. Five concerns fathered by Marrin were wiped out of existence at the time, and the Philadelphia "Con" Exchange rendered harmless.

"Handsome Harry" Latimer, one of the conspirators, is now supposed to be in Canada, while other conspirators—F. Ewart Storey, Howard Quintan and Sophie Beck—have fled the country.

It was large throughly the mails that the Storey swindle was conducted. The Storey company distributed thousands of circulars throughout the country, promising large dividends to speculators in cotton. Thousands of dupes hastened to get in on the "get-rich-quick" scheme, and it is estimated that more than $2,000,000 was raked into the swindlers' coffers.

First of Damage Suits Growing Out of Dam

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ASHESVILLE, N. C., March 19.—In the Superior Court yesterday evening the jury returned a verdict in favor of J. S. Huyler, the millionaire candy manufacturer of New York.

The trial of this case was begun last Friday, and has created much interest. Five other suits of a similar nature are pending against Mr. Huyler, but it is now thought they will be consolidated. Kirtley, who is a property owner in the neighborhood of Montreat, sued Mr. Huyler for $15,000 damages to his property caused by the

INDORSED TAFT: RODE OVER TREAT

to hear from "our Congressman-elect, Hon. John G. Luce."

At 1:20 P. M. Chairman Cabell called to order and named Messrs. M. J. Enright, of Goodland, and C. L. Harrison, of New Kent, to wait upon the committee on credentials and see if it would be ready to report in a short time. The committee returned and said a report would be in within ten minutes. The recess was therefore continued for this period. A German-American delegate, with a natural fondness for music, wished some one to play a patriotic air on an organ situated near the stage, and he suggested "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," but he couldn't open the instrument, and this feature of the program was abandoned.

Limited Debate.

When the body reconvened Mr. Enright moved that debate on the report of the committee on credentials be limited to ten minutes on each side. Should any discussion be necessary, Mr. Treat did not think this sufficient, and there were several amendments—one for fifteen and another for twenty minutes. A compromise was reached, and fifteen minutes a side was allowed.

Chairman Moore read the report of the committee, and it was in favor of seating the Vawter delegation, composed of the following, with half a vote each: W. R. Vawter, John Thompson, J. W. Gilham, Jacob Shaw, J. W. Southward, M. R. Griffin, Dr. F. O. Mookler and E. K. Gunn.

Mr. Treat was recognized to oppose the report and to speak in favor of the Jones delegation, which was composed of the following, with one vote each: the county being entitled to four votes in order, J. J. Mitchell, John D. Dowden and Thomas Grubbs.

Mr. Treat reviewed the situation at length, and contended that after Mr. Joseph Stuart, the former county chairman, had been brought into the city by Mr. Jones, Mr. Jones had been elected chairman and commissioned by State Chairman Slemm. He said another meeting was held and a minority of the committee elected Mr. W. R. Vawter chairman.

At the Courthouse.

The Vawter wing held a convention at Henric Courthouse and chose eight delegates, with half a vote each, and three days later the Jones faction met at Ford's Law Building and elected four delegates, with one vote each.

Mr. Treat was at times vigorous in his denunciation of the alleged methods adopted by the Vawter wing, and he claimed that the Jones people were plainly entitled to recognition.

Chairman Moore defended the report of his committee, and among other things, he contended that the Jones delegation alleged that their meeting had been held in Richmond city and not in Henric county.

Mr. Treat sprang to his feet, and in an excited manner declared that Richmond was in the county, and that he could easily demonstrate this beyond question.

The chair ruled sharply that there should be absolute order, and that no one would be permitted to interrupt a speaker with the chair's consent.

It was necessary a few moments later for Chairman Cabell to enjoin Mr. Treat to resume his seat until he was willing to address his remarks to the chair in an orderly manner.

Luce for Congress.

Mr. Treat closed the argument for the contesting delegates in a brief, forceful speech, in which he demanded a "square deal" for all, and the vote was taken, with the following result:

For the Jones delegation, 5; for the Vawter delegation, 13; not voting, 4. This announcement was received with much applause, and the convention heard the report of the committee on permanent organization, rules and order.

This committee, through Mr. L. H. Decker, chairman, reported in favor of making the temporary organization permanent, and the report was unanimously adopted.

Mr. H. G. Spence, of Williamsburg, was called to the chair, and Mr. Cabell was recognized to place Mr. John G. Luce, of Goodland, in nomination for Congress. The speaker praised Mr. Luce as a man of high character and a leader of striking ability, and declared that he would unite the party on every point and lead it on to victory.

Loud applause greeted Mr. Cabell's eloquent peroration, and after several seconding speeches Mr. Luce was nominated by a rising vote. The nominee received a rousing reception when he came forward to return his thanks.

His speech was brief. He declared that he was not an orator, but a business man, and that he would conduct his campaign on business principles. He congratulated the convention and the party upon the harmony prevailing

Delegates Chosen.

The election of delegates and alternates to the national convention being in order, Mr. Luce named Mr. C. R. Moore as delegate and Mr. R. E. Cabell as alternate. They are both of Richmond. Mr. Drew nominated Mr. M. J. Enright, of Goodland, as the other delegate and Postmaster T. H. Smith, of Manchester, as his alternate.

Mr. T. B. Snead said he was opposed to sending officeholders to the convention. He therefore named as delegates Messrs. Jonas Marcuse, of Richmond, and C. L. Harrison, of New Kent. Mr. Harrison said he was not an aspirant, but he objected to the election of Mr. Enright because it had been announced through the press that a slate had been fixed up. "The State may go Republican within two years," he said, "but not if delegates are to be ordered up prior to the meetings called to elect them."

Messrs. Luce and Edgar Allan, Jr., defended Mr. Enright, and Mr. Treat was about to bring on a bitter colloquy between himself and Mr. Allan by charging that there had been a compact in advance, when the chair ordered them to be seated on the ground that the discussion was out of order.

Chair Held Them Down.

Mr. Enright defended himself and he and Mr. Snead engaged in some personal skirmishes at one time, which were closely checked by the chair. Messrs. Moore and Messrs. Cabell and Smith alternates, Messrs. Marcuse and Harrison receiving only six votes.

Mr. L. H. Drew, of Richmond, was chosen district elector, and Mr. B. B. Arnold, of the same city, member of the State Executive Committee. Mr. Moore named Mr. John G. Luce, of Goodland, for district chairman, and he was elected by acclamation. The following were elected members of the State Committee: W. R. Vawter, Hanover; B. D. Spencer, Williamsburg; Melvin Flegenheimer, Richmond; E. B. Howie, Manchester; Harry McIntyre, Goodland.

After adopting resolutions respecting the death of Colonel C. Slemm and of Mr. C. P. Snead, of Hanover, endorsing State Chairman C. B. Slemm and the present national administration, and instructing the delegates elected to vote for Secretary Taft for President, the convention at 3:10 P. M. adjourned sine die.

Hobson Thought It Strange.

Mr. Clarkson added that Mr. Hobson told him to call up Mr. Spear, which he did, and then Captain Hobson talked to him over the telephone. The witness said Captain Hobson told Mr. Spear that he appreciated his interest, but that he did not want him to help him in any way; that he wanted absolutely no suggestion of influence from any outside source; that Mr. Clarkson said that Captain Hobson said to him that he had known Mr. Spear for years, and "that it is the strangest thing to me that he would make me a proposition like that."

Evidence was presented showing that the only indorsement that Captain Hobson had for a place on the Naval Affairs Committee was from the Alabama delegation in Congress. Representative Clayton, of Alabama, identified an indorsement of Mr. Hobson by the delegation, and L. W. Busbey, secretary to Speaker Cannon, produced his books, which showed that no one but the Alabama delegation had indorsed Mr. Hobson for a place on the committee. The indorsement of John Sharp Williams, the resortative leader, had recommended his appointment to the Speaker, and that recommendation had been accepted by Mr. Cannon.

"With the exception of Mr. Williams there was any other request made whatever for the appointment of Mr. Hobson on the Naval Affairs Committee," asked Mr. Olmsted.

"Not any other, so far as I know," replied Mr. Busbey.
